

Anthropology of Aging

Anthropology 5410/7630

Winter, 2008

Tuesdays 5:30-8:15 PM

Instructor: Dr. S. Briller

COURSE DESCRIPTION & ORGANIZATION

- Aging is a human experience that occurs worldwide.
- Perceptions of aging, the life course and what constitutes “a good old age” vary across cultures.
- This course is a seminar & takes an active learning approach.
- Class sessions involve discussions of readings, in-class exercises, and films.
- Major term project is a life history interviewing assignment.

